ARTICLE APPEARED ON PAGE

THE WASHINGTON STAR (GREEN LINE) 13 May 1981

Huge Arms Cache Seized At Houston Air Terminal

HOUSTON (UPI) — A $1.2 million — fles, 135-40mm grenade launchers, cache of arms apparently destined — and an assortment of other arms for South Africa — "enough weapons" — "The total count of the arms was for South Airica — enough months 2,200 weat to fight a war" — was seized last night 2,200 weat by Customs agents in the largest "We think history, and million."

Undercover agents swooped down the arms and arrest the four-man Austrian crew and two London gun dealers. The plane was also seized.

The six men were held pending a out a license from the State Depart- history," Conroy said. ment, were pending as seed ... "The arms were on a long haul pects carried a false State Depart. ment license permitting the export. of munitions of war, the Associated Press reported....

(The AP quoted im as saying the weapons were purchased in Connecticut with a letter of credit issued, by an European bank.)

Customs officials said a threeweek operation, which trailed the weapons from the Colt Arms manufacturing plant-in Connecticut to Texas, led to the breakup of the weapons export scheme. Undercover agents even drove the tractortrailer carrying the arms.

No other details of the operation were given...

2,200 wearons seized," Conroy said. "We think the value was about $1.2

Conroy aid the weapons were deson an Austrian airliner, parked near tined for South Africa, but a Customs a private terminal at Houston's Intersource indicated South Africa may continental Airport, to confiscate not have been the final destination. "There are some things which have not surfaced yet," Conroy added.

"The Customs agent in charge says this particular bust represents hearing before a U.S. magistrate one of the most flawlessly executed Charges of violating the Neutrality investigations and seizures. We also Act, exporting military arms with . . think this was the biggest seizure in (Customs regional Public Affairs trailer-type truck that brought the Officer Charles Conroy said the sus- weapons from Hartford, Conn. It was followed from Hartford by Customs agents and it was driven by Customs agents," he said.

> The tractor-trailer was to meet the plane, which was parked at Qualitron Aero Terminal, a terminal used by private craft at Houston Intercontinental. When the men got off the plane to inspect the arms, the truck was backed up to the plane and additional agents moved in.

Customs men said the plane was believed to have been supplied by Montana Airlines, an Austrian com-

A permanent arms embargo imposed against South Africa by the One agent said officials seized United Nations Security Council is enough weapons to fight a war," in in effect and is observed by the Uniteracting 635 fully automatic M-16 rieed States.